HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. To find relief and cure? No reason why any woman should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Ragtime.

AN EASTER CAROL.

Each year when Easter comes around,

The story of the spring,

And sunshine, hope and joy abound,

As they hear the joyful strains,

"That the church bells sweetly chime

The congregations of the town.

"The glad rag" time.

Chorus.

Rag time, rag time, behold the glad new days,

Rag time, rag time, the music sweetly drags,

And glad in glad new raiment

We all hasten to the chime

"He is risen! He is risen!"

And enjoy rag time.

We do not mind our poverty,

The scarcity of times,

Nor worry 'bout our plenty

So long as other hearts

If we but make good at Easter,

(When old clothes would be a crime)

Why our plenty's all right, if we

Can keep rag time.

Chorus.

In days of old, we've all been told,

One glorious Easter story,

The risen Son of Man proclaimed

A brighter day for all.

Glad tidings of eternal life,

A message most sublime,

But we're here now as meaning

Just rag time.

Chorus.

The Easter Lily.

"Twas a bulb 'mongst a heap of others

When little maid Myrtle spied it

As she glanced to see that way;

"What is it?" she earnestly questioned

"'Tis a bulb of the Easter Lily."

"Would you like to have it, dear?"

In a pot of earth 'twas planted

For the Easter day (she thought white),

And little maid Myrtle hid it

For the Easter day (she thought white),

And then she forgot all about it,

Until on one winter's day,

When she came in from her play,

And lo! the bulb of the Lily

Had sprung into life; so they placed it

With its green shoots near the light;

For a time the Lily flourished

Watched her Lily, day by day,

But as Easter drew still closer

She forgot it in her play,

And so, on Easter morning,

She found her Lily a-bloom

With fragrance filled the room,

And then she found that Myrtle

Of the lesson her Lily taught,

And of Christ, who died to save us;

Our lives, by his own, were bought,

And as she had, her Lily

Away from the sun and light,

So the friends of the Lord had placed Him

GREENWOOD.

Found Dead.
The startling news was circulated rapidly through town, Monday forenoon, that the body of Oliver Ames, a well to do farmer of this place, had been found beside the main road only about half mile from home. Strangest of all it appears that he had been there since Friday of last week without being discovered.

All sorts of rumors were afloat in a short time, but the following account is probably the most correct and explains the reason for non-discovery of the body. Mr. Ames lived alone with the exception of an aged housekeeper on a back road some two miles from the main highway, and his house was the only one on the road. Inhabited Friday, he went to Look's Mills and on his way back called at Ross Martin's some three miles from his home. This was the last of his being seen alive.

When he failed to put in an appearance Friday night the housekeeper, Arzilia Field, was somewhat alarmed as Mr. Ames never remained away over night. Unfortunately there is no telephone in the house and Mrs. Field had no means of communication with the outside world as she is not able to travel any distance owing to her age and health.

Saturday and Sunday went by with no news of Mr. Ames and it was not until Monday that Osgood Swan coming thru to Ames from the Irish Neighborhood was informed by Mrs. Field of Mr. Ames continued absence and requested by him to hunt for him. When Mr. Swan found the body it was lying beside the road almost in sight of the house where Mr. Ames lived. The body was frozen into the ice. The cause of death at this writing is uncertain.

Dr. O. K. Yates of West Paris was summoned and attempts made to secure a coroner's service, Monday. In this the authorities failed, no coroner being available until Tuesday. It is probable that an inquest will be held, possibly an autopsy.

So far as we know Mr. Ames survived by only one brother, his parents having died several years ago. He was well to do for a farmer, but took little interest in public affairs and seldom got away from home and then usually to purchase such provisions and supplies as he needed.

Will Yates purchased a new horse in Norway, recently.

Raymond Webber has gone to work for Harry Millett of Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester French from North Norway visited in town, last week.

A peculiar condition of affairs exists in the Tubbs District where no school is to be held this spring, we are told, because no boarding place can be found for the teacher.

Y. P. C. U. Business Meeting.
A pleasant, interesting, profitable and well attended business meeting of the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church was held at Concert Hall, Thursday evening. The president, Abner Mano, presided. Reports of various committees were heard and other business attended to. The matter of holding the annual banquet was taken up and a committee appointed to fix the date and make arrangements for same.

A communication was read telling of the plan to organize a Union of Mechanics Falls, Apr. 26. Unionists from this vicinity are requested to be present at the formation of the new union. There are a number from this union who are planning to attend.

Following the business a short program was listened to. The first number was a solo by Lona Noble. The president then called on Sara Danforth for a speech and she responded by relating an amusing story. Then followed a violin solo by Marion Haskell. Several other numbers were called on for remarks. The last was a duet by Gladys Buck and Geneva Sturtevant. The pianists were Susie Walker and Alice Abbott, violinist, Alice Abbott. Each number was heartily enjoyed but failed to produce the required result.

Oranges and bananas were served and games played to close the evening's enjoyment.

Sadie Jones of Boston is boarding at Frank Hurd's.

S. B. & Z. S. Prince have some real Irish shamrock growing in their window. Mrs. Weston Frost is having a serious time with her face and is a very sick woman.

Motley, clerk at the hotel Ramford at Ramford Falls, has resigned his position to accept the management of The Barker, a large summer hotel at the Rangley lakes, which also has in connection 20 lake cabins. The dining room at the hotel accommodates 150 people. Mr. Motley takes charge the 20th of April.

Mrs. Sim W. Snow came up from Auburn last Saturday to visit friends. Her husband is a shoe cutter for Wise & Cooper. Business has been a little dull this winter. They have bought a house and an acre of land on Hazel street, Auburn Heights, and are comfortably situated. They lived here 23 years and have been in Auburn two years come June.

Lyman Plummer of Lovell drove as a sick looking pair of steers into town, Saturday, as one often sees. They were three years old, would be four in June. The pair weighed 3400 when they left home, one weighing 6 feet 10 and one 6 feet 11 inches. Mr. Plummer in company with Leslie McIntire of Waterford were taking them to the Brighton market.

Lyman Plummer, formerly of Sweden, how of Lovell, was given a gold dollar by his father at a birthday present 55 years ago. At that time there was a hundred per cent premium on gold, hence calling the value $2.00 at that time and reckon compound interest or annual interest for the 55 years what would be the sum it now represents? The dollar was made into a stick pin and has been worn by Mr. Plummer for many years. How valuable is it? Let us know.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. R. L. Powers, April 10 and 11.

One hundred and twenty-six trimmed hats were shown at Mrs. R. L. Powers' Easter opening, Friday morning, when the curtains went up. The window was in white and gilt and you looked at the the tastily grouped millinery therein through a frame of white ribbon.

Mrs. Powers is assisted this season by Nina Keyes, Agnes Kershaw, Mrs. Frank Dunham and Annie Fox.

There were hats for all occasions, the elaborately trimmed picture hat, the sung and easy turban, the sailor, the walking hat and the ready-to-wear.

The store was decorated in pistachio green and white. Flowers that will be worn later were banded along the entire length of the store on one side, the trimmed hats made the other side look bright.

Most of the toques show a wide difference between their brims and their crowns. Some of them have their crowns covered with ruchings of net or chiffon and a brim of differently colored material. Toques should be purchased with discrimination, for if they are commonplace they are so to a degree, and while if smart and suited to the size and contour of the woman's face and coiffure they are extremely chic. There are some fine turbans shown. A black fillet band over white maline, crown of small white flowers, black wings on side, jet pins and black velvet ribbon. A turban shape made of white maline, tuscany straw, pink ribbon, small pink flowers, fancy feather. There were the high turbans, some with military pomps. One in brown was particularly pretty.

A large black lace hat with black quills that started sideways from a black quill head in front with starting eyes that make one feel creepy. One merry widow of Alice blue straw was twenty-four inches across from rim to rim, side-wise and four pairs of black wings that spread across the front gave a good twenty-six inches. The hat was faced with black lace. The ribbon was black velvet with a pair of large fancy pins in colors to carry out the hat's color effect.

Another hat nearly as large was of white lace, with quantities of light blue hops, a generous bunch of red cherries, rows of narrow lace for the crown, green velvet ribbon collar with green velvet bow on side.

But the king of all hats for size, the real jumbo, was made of blue chrysanthemum braid, white lace faced rim with the lace cascaded on band, a dark blue silk plaited around the high crown and a large bunch of French flowers in front.

There were plenty of hats of medium size. One was a neat hat of peacock blue with a shirred crown that took six yards of good brown ribbon. A little bunch of dull pink roses. A little white hat with a maline plaited crown in rainbow effect, white plumes. A striking hat was a white leghorn faced with black velvet, oyster shade, lace insertion in rim between the velvet facing and a violet fold under the very outside portion of the rim, four rosettes of oyster shade narrow lace with white daisies center around the crown and a white maline pompon. Then there was a blue point d'esprit lace, blue chiffon fold, on edge, moss green velvet ribbon and red roses and moss.

The old English walking shapes seem like old friends. There was one very pretty in brown with a large leather brown rose, brown and white sport lace around the crown. An old blue hat took the eye faced with Alice blue, a blue braided band about the crown in light and Alice blue, partridge feathers in a bluish shade and blue lace intermingled.

A sailor hat in leather brown with five buckles of chrysanthemum braid about the crown through which passed a band of green ribbon. This was finished on the side front with a large fancy green feather. A dome with crown in different shades of Jacques roses and foliage, and a fancy feather in light Jacques shade, hat faced with brown maline. A black chip hat with band of coral shades, white wings and large pins. A Boston Derby with loops with two ends and lilies of the valley alternately standing around the crown, roses in the light and dark Jacques shades.

The children's hats are very pretty, especially the large fancy lace straws and dark shades of daisies. A child's poke in white braid was faced with shirred blue maline, blue ribbon ties, headed with rosettes, wreath of little pink roses and blue forget-me-nots.

How the ladies enjoy going to a millinery opening! The ladies revel and adore the hats, trying on one after another for the very joy of the hats' presence. Then comes the difficult matter of choosing one out of the many.

C. C. Whitney, who has been at Dr. B. F. Bradbury's for some time, went Saturday to Boston to work for the Alfred Peats Co.

Skunks are abroad in the land. Chas. A. Whitman found one in his lower hen-house when he went to feed his fowls this morning. The skunk had dug a hole in the side of the hen-house and made her a nice, soft, straw-lined nest therein, and was making preparations to raise up a family of the midst of peace and plenty. The heartless proprietor of the place gave her the benefit of his shotgun. Perjury was to be had at your own price and no questions asked, for awhile.

Addie Shattuck returned from Boston the last of the week, where she went to assist in moving the household goods of her two uncles, Adam and Alonzo Kinsey to Norway. One of the blind mules has been blind many years. They returned with Miss Shattuck. They are to move from the village to Miss Shattuck's farm at Norway Lake as soon as the house is vacated by A. D. Kilgore, about the middle of this month.

His wife died some three or four years ago and he has been making his home at a neighbor's Isa B. Marcell's of Hebron, up to the time of coming here.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

This woman says she was saved from an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lena V. Henry, of Norristown, Ga., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only way to get well, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. 'One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured.'"

"Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

How is Your Stomach?

Easy Way to Strengthen It and Get Well. A good digestive system, one that acts so that you do not know that you have a stomach, is God's birthright to every man—to every woman.

If digestion is weak, if food turns into gas, if you suffer after eating, if you are sleepless, nervous and out of sorts—then the stomach is diseased and prompt action should be taken.

W. A. Ennis, a well-known builder in Syracuse, tells an easy way to strengthen the stomach and get well when he writes: "M-I-O-na Stomach Tablets have done more for me in one week than all the doctors the two years I was under their care. Thanks to M-I-O-na, I can work once more, the first time in over a year."

The immense success which has followed L. T. Cooper during the past year with his new preparation has exceeded anything of the kind ever before witnessed in most of the leading cities where the young man has introduced the medicine. Cooper has a novel theory. He believes that the human stomach is directly responsible for most disease. To quote his own words from an interview upon his arrival in an eastern city: "The average man or woman cannot be sick if the stomach is working properly. To be sure there are diseases of a vital nature, such as cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, etc., which are organic, and are not traceable to the stomach, but even fevers can, in nine cases out of ten, be traced to something amiss in the stomach. All of this half-sick, nervous exhaustion that is now so common, is caused by the stomachic conditions, and it is because my remedy will and does regulate the stomach that I am meeting with such success."

Prominent Physicians. Endorse Our Cod Liver Preparation, Vinol.

Many of the most eminent physicians are now prescribing Vinol as the most satisfactory cod liver preparation. Thus it is fast superseding other forms of cod liver oil and emulsions.

W. N. Rand, M. D., of Evans Mills, N. Y., writes: "From personal experience, I am able to appreciate the value of your cod liver preparation, Vinol. I have used it and prescribed it largely during the past eighteen months, and I can truly say that Vinol is all I can claim for it and more."

Dr. Bonchelle of Thomastown, Ga., a physician well known in the South, writes: "I use Vinol in my family and in my general practice with most excellent results for bronchial and pulmonary troubles and to create strength."

Another physician writes: "I am satisfied that Vinol derives its wonderful life-giving and strength-creating power from the medicinal curative elements found in the cod's liver. It is the most satisfactory strength creator and vitalizer for old people, weak women and delicate children which it has ever been my pleasure to prescribe."

The reason that Vinol has such remarkable curative and strength-creating power is because it is made by a unique process from fresh cod livers, combining with peptonate of iron (which is a powerful food and blood tonic) all the medicinal, healing and body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

We ask every person in Norway, Me., who is in need of such a medicine to try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. Frank P. Stone, Druggist, Norway, Me.

Poultry.

What Breeds are Best for the Market. Original paper by Mrs. Clara J. Hamlin read before Bear Mountain Grange at its last meeting.

Other things being equal that breed is best which we like best. There is no breed that combines all the excellencies and has none of the defects. There is no breed that does not have its admirers.

The American breeds on the whole are the favorites. They are all-round birds, good layers of brown eggs, excellent for the table, good sitters, and mothers. They stand the cold well and are the birds for farmers and breeders. They are the barred, buff and white Plymouth Rocks, all the Wyandottes and the Rhode Island Reds. These are great money making varieties.

It will be a great day for the poultry business when farmers keep more pure bred fowls, for then the great standard varieties may be kept up without danger of deterioration.

It is better for the average poultryman to confine himself to one variety. He will get better results and make more money. More egg records are wrecked by keeping old hens in the flock than in any other way. There is always a temptation when a hen has laid well to keep her the second year. This temptation must be resisted if one is in quest of a big egg record.

You may say it is an axiom that it is the pullets that give the big egg record. It is the pullets that lay and early hatched pullets at that. Get out your chickens in March, April and May if you would have winter layers. Never get to old to learn.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A BOYS' VACATION.

A novel booklet has just been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway entitled, "What shall a boy do with his Vacation?" The book answers this annual puzzle in a manner that should prove satisfactory alike to parents and boys.

The idea developed by the brochure is the establishment of boys' camps in the wilderness, where the youngsters could live under canvas and get a genuine bit of simple life, with plenty of fishing, swimming, rowing, a whole lot of outdoor sports, while instruction in woodcraft and such nature studies make the camps veritable schools of the wilds, such as would rejoice the hearts of Dr. Long, President Roosevelt or other advocates of the simple life. The booklet tells of many such camps in the Temagami, Lake of Bays, Algonquin Park and other districts, with illustrations of the way the boys spend their time and the fish they catch, which should prove attractive to a good many besides boys. A postal card to the undersigned will secure a copy without cost. J. Quinlan, D. P. A., Bonaventure Station, Montreal, Que.

OXFORD.
20th Anniversary of T. A. Roberts Post. The twentieth-anniversary of T. A. Roberts Post was celebrated Friday, April 10th, in Robinson hall. It was a magnificent day, warm, pleasant and basking a little sun everyting tended to a good time. The members of the W. R. C. were on hand early and things were in apple pie order to welcome the veterans, their friends and visitors from surrounding towns.
The incoming trains and teams brought many familiar faces and by dinner time the hall was comfortably filled. The time from 9 a. m. until 11.30 was taken up in a social way and enjoyed as only such gatherings can take enjoyment. At 11.30 the line of march was taken up to the dining room in S. of T. hall. The tables were tastefully arranged and literally groaned with their loads of good things. It was a feast such as a hungry man likes to sit down to, and if any one went away without being satisfied it was their own fault.
After dinner cigars and stories were in order until opening of afternoon program. Promptly at 1 p. m. the exercises began with remarks of welcome by C. T. Wardwell. Mr. Wardwell stated that of the 26 charter members, 12 had died, one transferred and 12 were in good standing. The first speaker was E. A. Roberts of Portland, son of T. A. Roberts for whom the post was named. Mr. Roberts spoke fittingly of the occasion. Then followed the song, "Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching." The reading of an original article on Lee's surrender by Agnes Fuller came next. This article was nicely adjusted to the occasion.
Solo by Ida Stone, "Col. Flag." Captain Bucknam of Mechanic Falls spoke in a humorous strain, saying that he probably did more running than any other two men. When he enlisted there were only two things for him to do, join the Methodist church or go to war, and he chose the latter.
Song, "The Star Spangled Banner," by Mrs. Linnie Denning. Song by Marion Fuller. Little Miss Fuller, who boasts of having a family tree whose descendants were intimately connected with every war back to Washington, sang without the aid of an instrument and received a well merited ovation. Major Greene of Portland, a past department commander, acted as speaker. In speaking of Lee's surrender said it was one of the most notable events in American history, and brought out the fact that four members of this post were present at the surrender. Song by Ida Stone, "We shall meet but we shall miss him." Next came a humorous reading by Agnes Fuller.
Mrs. Laura E. Stevens, department commander of W. R. C., read her remarks, which she had embodied in poetical form. They were very fitting. Song by Little Girls, Pearl Locke, Jennie Lebroke, Verna Denning. Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris spoke at some length of the new Sherman bill, the ingratitude and forgetfulness of the country for the old fighting soldiers.
A song, "Marching through Georgia," by George Jones was followed by the presentation to the post of $20 by the president of the W. R. C., Agnes Mulholland. The gift was acknowledged and accepted in behalf of the post by C. T. Wardwell. George Jones of Portland gave several interesting reminiscences of the war. J. H. Hunting related some personal experiences while campaigning for Indians in New Mexico.
The day was fittingly brought to a close with the singing of America. The post by a rising vote thanked the W. R. C. for their generous gift.
